The above signed acknowledges that Games Workshop and the store running the painting event is not responsible for lost or damaged models.

Photocopy the entry form and ID cards on this page. Have your competition participants fill out the form and write their name on the back (or under the circle where the model is placed) of the model ID card and place their model on top of the ID card. It may be a good idea to use a little bit of blue-tac to keep the model and the ID card together.

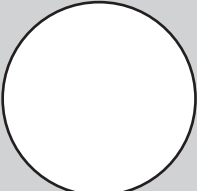

While it is rare for anything to happen to any models in painting competitions, unfortunately something may happen from time to time. The store is not responsible for any lost or damaged models.
